Pressure is mounting on Bangladesh to impose an indefinite shutdown to curb the outbreak of the deadly coronavirus in the country. Authorities have asked people not to travel, especially during the month of Ramzan. They have also asked children and pregnant women to stay at home. So far, there have been 12 confirmed COVID-19 cases in Bangladesh and six patients have recovered, according to the Ministry of Health. The World Health Organization, WHO, has said that COVID-19 is not an airborne infection. But air-conditioned offices, workplaces and shops must be closed and only necessary business activities must be carried out outdoors. It also noted that transmission through the air is possible, but in the West African country of Senegal, where five million people have been infected with coronavirus, the disease has not spread through air. Bangladesh's prime minister has instructed all government offices, particularly the ministries, to shut down all departments and divisions in the cities as a part of the government's precautionary measure. Now, the government is planning to order all citizens to stay at home for an indefinite time, said a government official. The Prime Minister's Press Secretary A.S. Muhith, while speaking to the media, said that the government has decided to implement an indefinite lockdown. "I can say today that we are gearing towards an indefinite lockdown," the official said. The decision comes as it is reported that the number of COVID-19 patients in Bangladesh has surpassed 3da54e8ca3
